I supervised and assisted an associate of Munsch Hardt (Anand Gupta) in the preparation and filing of the above-identified patent application under the supervision of Ms. L.Joy Griebenow, who is an employee and Senior Counsel in the Legal-Intellectual Property department of Hewlett-Packard Company.

Munsch Hardt was engaged by Hewlett-Packard to prepare the above-identified patent application. Attached hereto as Exhibit A is a true copy of a correspondence received from Ms. L.Joy Griebenow on or about January 20, 2004, regarding the engagement of Munsch Hardt to prepare the above-identified patent application. Upon the engagement of Munch Hardt, the above-identified patent application was duly docketed for preparation in the ordinary course of business. In the course of this engagement, a review of the disclosure materials and telephonic interviews were conducted with the inventor in the course of preparing a draft version of the above-identified patent application. Feedback from the inventor was solicited in preparing and revising the draft version of the patent application. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is a true copy of time records and accompanying service details, with portions redacted as noted, that were entered into a Sage Carpe Diem billing software product used by Munsch Hardt for time and expense tracking for services relating to the preparation of the above-identified patent application. After the draft was completed to the satisfaction of the inventor, the completed draft application was submitted to Ms. L.Joy Griebenow via e-mail for review on April 7, 2004. A copy of that e-mail is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

I received feedback from Ms. L.Joy Griebenow on the draft application. In the ordinary course of business, I incorporated that feedback into the final version of the application and sought the inventor's final review of the draft application as well as the inventor's signature on a Declaration and Power of Attorney document (which contains a signature of the inventor dated April 20, 2004), which was filed in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on April 21, 2004.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

REDACT

Dear James:

We would like you to provide a quote of the cost for your firm to prepare a US Patent application based on the HP Invention Disclosure identified above, a copy of which is enclosed.

Your quote should be based on preparing an application including the items noted on the enclosed Outside Counsel Checklist and according to HP's Outside Counsel Procedures referenced above, for filing by our Required Date.

Your quote should be submitted on the enclosed Request for Quote and Engagement Letter Agreement. If your quote is accepted, we will return a fully executed copy of the Agreement to you for your records. The Agreement will not be binding on you or on HP until signed by HP's authorized representative.

If the Agreement is not signed and returned to HP, any bills submitted by you cannot be paid.

Thank you for your assistance in reviewing this invention disclosure. If your review indicates a possible conflict for your firm, you should advise us within one week of receipt of this letter.

Sincerely,

I am an employee and Senior Counsel in the Legal-Intellectual Property department of Hewlett-Packard Company. My U.S. Patent and Trademark Office Registration number is 33,704.

In my capacity as a patent attorney at Hewlett-Packard, I supervised the preparation and filing of the above-identified patent application. In accordance with standard Hewlett-Packard procedures, upon receipt of an invention disclosure document from an inventor(s), the invention disclosure document is dated with the date of receipt by the Legal Intellectual Property department of Hewlett-Packard Company and assigned a docket number. The invention disclosure document pertaining to the above-identified patent application was received by the Legal Intellectual Property department of Hewlett-Packard Company on a date prior to January 7, 2004.

In the ordinary course of business, a patent review committee of Hewlett-Packard regularly convenes to review the submitted invention disclosure documents to determine whether to file for patent protection for the corresponding subject matter. In the ordinary course of business, a patent review committee convened and reviewed the invention disclosure document pertaining to the above-identified patent application and a determination was made to seek patent protection for the subject matter submitted in this disclosure document. Upon this determination, I was responsible for engaging counsel to prepare and file the above-identified patent application. In the ordinary course of business, the task of engaging counsel to prepare and file the above-identified patent application was duly docketed.

Munsch Hardt Kopf & Harr, P.C. ("Munch Hardt") was engaged to prepare and file the above-identified patent application. In accordance with standard Hewlett-Packard procedures, I sent an engagement letter agreement to Munsch Hardt requesting preparation of the above-identified patent application. I received an executed engagement letter agreement from James L. Baudino, a shareholder at Munsch Hardt, on or about January 22, 2004. A redacted copy of that engagement letter agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit A. I received a draft of the application for review from Munsch Hardt on April 7, 2004.

During the time period from a determination to seek patent protection and engaging counsel, my typical practice is to prepare and send an engagement letter agreement to counsel based on the chronological order in which the determinations are made to seek patent protection. During the time period that the draft application was in my work queue, my typical practice is to review the draft application based on the chronological order in which the draft application was received by me. These typical practices were subject to interruption by emergency matters such as impending bar dates in other cases or time deadlines imposed by federal law for responding to communications from the U.S. Patent and Trademark office in other matters under my supervision.

During the time between receiving the invention disclosure document for the above-identified patent application and April 21, 2004, my active docket included responsibility for preparing and/or supervising the preparation of over 100 new patent applications.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.
